

INDEX TO VOLUME III.

- ABSCESS of fixation in otology, 328.
- Abstracts from current laryngological and rhinological literature, 117, 214, 340, 451.
- Abstracts from foreign ophthalmic Journals, 99, 198, 314, 423.
- Abstracts from English and American current ophthalmological literature, 94, 189, 305, 430.
- Abstracts from English and American current otological literature, 114, 210, 335, 442.
- Abstracts from foreign otological literature, 109, 206, 327, 446.
- A case of acute inflammation of the middle ear, terminating in purulent periphlebitis of the lateral sinus, 338.
- A case of acute suppurative otitis media characterized by high temperature and symptoms of brain complication. Operation. Recovery, 56.
- A case of astigmatism where the contour of the cornea indicated the axes, 146.
- A case of astigmatism corrected by alterations in the lens, 324.
- A case of intra-ocular hemorrhage after extraction of cataract, 12.
- A case of cysticercus of the vitreous, 129.
- A case of otitic brain abscess. Operation. Recovery, 152.
- A case of myxo-sarcoma, 68.
- A case of orbital cellulitis following tenotomy for squint, 261.
- A case of lupus of the nose and larynx, 341.
- A case of injury to eye, 273.
- A case of torticollis following removal of adenoids of the rhino-pharynx, with remarks on nasal reflexes, 161.
- A case of traumatic epilepsy relieved by operation on the nose, 72.
- A case of vaso-motor rhinitis, 420.
- A cause of failure in the surgical treatment of internal strabismus, 313.
- Acoustic neurasthenia, 414.
- Actinomycosis of the face cured by iodid of potassium, 340.
- A dead cysticercus cellulose subretinialis, 132.
- Erotherapeutic treatment of ear diseases, 443.
- A further communication on the results of a bacteriological examination of the pipettes and collyria taken from a treatment case used in ophthalmic practice, with the effects of inoculations, 134.
- Alarming secondary hemorrhage following the removal of hypertrophic tonsils with the galvano-cautery snare, 158.
- Alderton, Henry A., acoustic neurasthenia, 414.
- A mosquito bite in the membrana tympani, 89.
- An accurate and convenient prism-spectacles for innervational gymnastics, 456.
- A new phorometer, 96.
- A new style of a case of trial-lenses, 437.
- A new symptom for the diagnosis of deep-seated affections of the mastoid apophysis in otitis media purulenta, 331.
- A new treatment of glaucoma, 105.
- Angio-fibroma of the tonsil, 340.
- An instrument for the rhythmical exercise of the ocular muscles—the phorotone, 96.
- Another modification of the Stacke operation, 334.
- A note of progress in the method of measuring and designating prisms in ophthalmic practice, 187.
- Antipyrin as an anesthetic in diseases of the nose, pharynx and larynx, 342, 445.
- Apparatus for the gymnastics of the drum and ossicles, 328.
- Are gun-cap wounds of the eye without danger, 375.
- A spontaneous cure of traumatic detachment of the retina, 320.
- Asepsis and antiseptics in the nose and throat, 182.
- Atrophy of the optic nerve as a symptom of chronic disease of the central nervous system, 96.
- A unique case, 144.

- BACON, GORHAM, a case of acute suppurative otitis media characterized by high temperature and symptoms of brain complication; operation; recovery, 56.
- Baker, Chas. H., results of subconjunctival injections in some eye diseases, 378.
- Bell's paralysis following ear operations, 338.
- Benefit to ear patients from nasal treatment, 114.
- Bernstein, Edward J., when and how shall we correct faulty equilibrium of the ocular muscles, 245.
- Blind people in Missouri and four other States, 437.
- Book notice, 119, 345.
- Burnett, Charles Henry, persistent mobility of the stapes in some cases of chronic catarrhal deafness, 288.
A case of otitic brain abscess; operation; recovery, 152.
- Burnett, Swan M., a note of progress in the method of measuring and designating prisms in ophthalmic practice, 187.
- CHAPPELL, WALTER F., short notes of unusual cases, 90.
Treatment of purulent rhinitis, syecosis and eczema of the alae nasi, 299.
- Cheatham, W., a case of cysticercus of the vitreous, 129.
- Chisolm, Julian J., how cataract patient's eyes are dressed at the Presbyterian eye, ear, and throat charity hospital, of Baltimore, 5.
- Chlorid of zinc in otitis media purulenta with granulations, 334.
- Cholesteatoma of the ear, 335.
- Chronic tympanic vertigo; its relief by surgical liberation of the stapes, 336.
- Clinical memoranda, 89, 185, 297, 418.
- Coloboma of iris, ciliary body, choroid, and optic nerve sheath, 138.
- Concerning the history of the discovery of reflex ocular neuroses, and the extent to which these reflexes obtain, 305.
- Congenital occlusion of the posterior nares, 177.
- Contributions to English and American journals, 94, 189, 305, 430.
- Contributions to foreign otologic journals, 109, 206, 327, 442.
- Contributions to laryngologic literature, 117, 214, 340, 451.
- Croskey, John Welsh, description of a set of test cards and cabinet for holding the same, 222.
- Cyanid of mercury in ocular therapeutics, 105.
- DENTITION with disease of the teeth as a cause of ear disease, 216.
- De Schweinitz, G. E., a case of intra-ocular hemorrhage after extraction of cataract, 12.
A further communication on the results of bacteriological examination of the pipettes and collyria taken from a treatment case used in ophthalmic practice, with the effects of inoculations, 134.
- Description of a new optometer for the correction of astigmatism by distant tests, 29.
- Description of a new trial-frame, 26.
- Description of a set of test cards and cabinet for holding the same, 222.
- Dessar, Leonard A., abstracts from English and American current otological literature, 114, 210, 335, 442.
Benefit to ear patients from nasal treatment, 114.
Fifty mastoid operations, 114.
- Meniere's disease, 115.
Quinin in diseases of the ear, 114.
The class of cases in which we may expect good results from excision of the membrana tympani and ossicles, 115.
- Destruction of the eye by hemorrhage following cataract extraction, 9.
- Destructive hemorrhage during extraction of cataract, 16.
- Diseases of the ear as a complication in Epidemic influenza, 444.
- Double congenital cataract, 138.
- Duane, Alexander, the treatment of heterophoria—an answer to Dr. Gould, 229.
- EAR complications of influenza, 213.
Ear cotton—salmon colored, 336.
Ear faints and epilepsy, 418.
- English and American journals reviewed, 94, 189, 305, 430.
- Episcleritis cured by subconjunctival injections of sublimate, 318.
- Epistaxis, 341.
- Epithelioma of the septum, 340.
- Excision of the drumhead and ossicles; the present state of the question, 112.
- Exophoria curable without operation—an additional word as to the treatment of exophoria, 94.
- Exploratory tympanotomy, 330.

Extraction of the stapes in chronic non-suppurative disease of the middle ear, 331.

Extraction of the transparent lens in high degrees of myopia, 105.

Exudative pharyngitis, 341.

FACTS relative to the development of myopia, 99.

Fifty mastoid operations, 114.

Follicular tonsillitis, etc., 451.

Freudenthal, W., is laryngitis sicca and Stoerk's blenorhea of the larynx one and the same disease, 168.

GIFFORD, H., the shield dressing for cataract extraction, 141.

Gottstein's post-nasal knife, 302.

Gould, George M., an accurate and convenient prism-spectacles for innervational gymnastics, 456.

A new style of a case of trial-lenses 457.

Innervational abnormalism the cause of heterophoria. A new method of treatment of heterophoria. A new instrument for testing adduction, abduction, exophoria, and esophoria, 35.

Gouty retinitis, choro-retinitis and neuro-retinitis, 97.

Gradle, H., on paralysis of the ocular sympathetic nerve-fibers, 240.

Graduation of the arc on Javal's ophthalmometer, and graduation on a straight arm, 359.

Green, F. D., some cases in ophthalmic practice, 274.

Grove, G. W., graduation of the arc on Javal's ophthalmometer, and graduation on a straight arm, 359.

Gruber's post-nasal curette, 302.

HALE, George W., so-called muscular asthenopia, 265.

Hansell, Howard F., the treatment of internal squint, 49.

Hardie, T. Melville, abstracts from foreign current otological literature, 109, 206, 327, 446.

A case of hemorrhage from the ear in a boy with imperforate drum-head, 109.

Contribution to the study of the statistics of ear diseases, 208.

Deafness and syphilis, 209.

Excision of the drumhead and ossicles; the present state of the question, 112.

Foreign body in the tympanic cavity, extraction, tetanus, 205.

Historical account and technique of operations for the thorough opening of the mastoid and middle ear, 446.

Injuries to the ear caused by firearms, 208.

New case of otolith, 208.

Removal of the stapes, 112.

Sinus thrombosis following middle ear disease, 206.

The tenotomy of the tensor tympani in chronic middle ear inflammation, 450.

Use of the Politzer bag in unilateral affection of the middle ear, 207.

Harris, Thomas J., a case of traumatic epilepsy relieved by operation on the nose, 72.

Heath, F. C., the conservative treatment of muscular insufficiencies, 149.

Hobby, C. M., are gun-cap wounds of the eye without danger, 375.

Ear faints and epilepsy, 418.

Prisms, 419.

Hotz, F. C., a mosquito bite in the membrana tympani, 89.

On some modifications of astigmatometer, and on its efficiency in the examination for astigmatism, 21.

How cataract patients' eyes are dressed at the Presbyterian Eye, Ear and Throat Charity Hospital, of Baltimore, 5.

IDIOPATHIC acute perichondritis of the nasal septum, 455.

Immediate capsulotomy following the removal of cataract, 420.

Immediate capsulotomy following the removal of cataract, 312.

Incipient inflammation of the ear in early life, 442.

Indirect massage of the lens for the artificial ripening of cataract, 94.

Insanity following a mydriatic—cause or coincidence, 253.

Instillation of oil in cases of foreign bodies, 334.

Intra-nasal growths as factors in aural and laryngeal catarrh, 444.

Is laryngitis sicca and Stoerk's blenorhea of the larynx one and the same disease, 168.

- JACKSON, EDWARD, destruction of the eye by hemorrhage following cataract extraction, 9.
 Value of the ophthalmometer in practical refraction work, 368.
Johnson, Walter B., tonsillitis, 75.

- KEIPER, GEO. F., immediate capsulotomy following the removal of cataract, 420.
Kellogg, Francis B., new instruments, 302
Knight, Charles H., a case of torticollis following removal of adenoids of the rhino-pharynx, with remarks on nasal reflexes, 161.

- LANDMAN, OTTO, monocular polyopia; two cases, 18.
Laryngeal leprosy, 454.
Lederman, M. D., abstracts from current laryngological and rhinological literature, 117, 214, 340, 451.
 Alarming secondary hemorrhage following the removal of hypertrophic tonsils with the galvanocautery snare, 158.
 Bacteriacide properties of the nasal mucus, 217.
 Operation for depressed nose, 215.
 Follicular tonsillitis, etc., 451.
 Primary erysipelas of the larynx, 217.
 Primary gangrene of the pharynx, 217.
 Reflexes originating from the nose, pharynx and larynx, 452.
 Repeated perforations of the cricothyroid membrane for treatment by sprays, etc., 453.
 Rhinoliths 117.
 Sarcoma of the larynx, 216.
 Sublimed sulphur as a local application in diphtheria, 215.
 Suppurative periostitis of the left inferior turbinated bone due to a diseased tooth, 216.
 The nasal reflex in chloroform syncope, 117.
 The pathological and clinical features of atrophic rhinitis, 214.
 The true nature of "falsetto," 453.
 The use of dilating sounds in nasal surgery, 217.
 Traction on the tongue in hysteria, 453.
 Treatment of diphtheria by insufflations and tabloids of sulphit of magnesium, 453.
 Tubercle bacilli in the nasal cavities of healthy men, 454.

- Tuberculoma of the nasal mucous membrane, 118.
 Two cases of congenital hypertrophy of the tongue, 218.
Life and works of Prof. Quaglino, 315.
 Local ocular therapeutics by subconjunctival injections of sublimate, 310.

- MAY, CHARLES H., a case of orbital cellulitis following tenotomy for squint, 261.
 A contribution to the anatomy of the human retina with a special consideration of the terminal loops of the rods and cones, 196.
 Acute cerebral amaurosis of infancy, 195.
 A new phorometer, 96.
 An additional word as to the treatment of exophoria, 94.
 An instrument for the rhythmical exercise of the ocular muscles, 96.
 Atrophy of the optic nerve as a symptom of chronic disease of the central nervous system, 96.
 Exophoria curable without operation, 94.
 Gouty retinitis, choro-retinitis and neuro-retinitis, 97.
 Indirect massage of the lens for the artificial ripening of cataract, 94.
 Note on the effect of prolonged excessive light on vision, 437.
 On the relation of some occupations to eyesight, 438.
 Optic neuritis in relation to cerebral tumor and trephining, 440.
 Prescribing of prisms, 95.
 Recent experience in the treatment of detachment of the retina, with a detailed report of thirty-eight cases, 430.
 Remarks on the pathology of descemetitis, 441.
 Report on the value of objective tests for the determination of ametropia—ophthalmoscopy, ophthalmometry, skiasecopy, 439.
 Review of current American and English ophthalmic literature, 94, 189, 305, 430.
 Scopolamin; its value in ophthalmic practice, 440.
 Subconjunctival hemorrhage limited to the outer part of the eye; a sign of fracture through the corresponding orbital plate, 191.
 Subvulsion, a new pterygium operation, 192.
 The best form of cylinder test and variable prism with a new phorometer, 96.

TO CONTRIBUTORS.

COMMUNICATIONS are invited from all parts of the world.

Authors who propose to favor the ANNALS OF OPHTHALMOLOGY AND OTOTOLOGY with contributions are requested to observe the following:—

1. In accepting an article for publication under the head of "ORIGINAL COMMUNICATIONS," it is done with the understanding that it is to be contributed to the ANNALS exclusively, and that copies or abstracts of the same have not been and will not be published in any other journal.

2. Writing must be distinct and plain, and especially all proper names. (If possible a manuscript should be type-written.)

3. Proofs will be furnished authors for correction and revision, but it is requested that alterations be limited to what is of essential importance, as changes in the copy are equivalent to resetting, and cause additional expense and much annoyance.

4. The ANNALS especially desires brief, mature, concise articles on practical subjects, as its readers are busy physicians who desire results, therefore the author who condenses expression enhances the value of his contribution and is rewarded by having it extensively read.

5. Authors will be furnished with reprints of their articles, in pamphlet form, handsomely printed on the finest quality of paper, at cost. (See next page.)

The ANNALS is published four times a year: On or about the last of JANUARY, APRIL, JULY and OCTOBER, and all ORIGINAL ARTICLES for succeeding issues should be ready to place in the hands of the printer about sixty days before date of publication.

The number of good original papers offered to the ANNALS continues to increase, so that we cannot engage to publish an article in any specified issue.

When two or more original articles upon the same subject are received, the shortest, most pithy and concise will take precedence.
